Revenue sharing budget cuts made

by NANCY POULER

The Antioch Village Board Financial Committee headed by Trustee Donald Amundsen approved tentative cuts in requests for revenue sharing funds, at their June 4 meeting.

In order to balance the budget allocation of $90,000 with requests from organizations and village departments for funds to aid their service and civic projects, the committee proposed lesser amounts for almost all requests, including complete removal of $7,000 for computerizing the village clerk's office from the budget.

A LOT OF CUTTING had to be done, and is yet to be done since the total requests amounted to $109,875, according to the committee.

Originally there was a request from the police department for $12,000 to hire a new patrolman but that was transferred to another budget, and is now included in revenue sharing budget requests.

Items considered and tentatively decided on included: $7,500 requested from Antioch Parks and Recreation for renovation at Williams Park which was reduced to $6,275, a figure sufficient to cover actual amounts spent.

Lake County Chaplaincy Service which turned in its first request for help in their work of providing meals-on-wheels, transportation-service and home care to senior citizens for $5,000, was allotted $3,000.

Lake County Crisis Center asked $500 for establishment of abused persons' centers in Waukegan, and were allotted $100.

The request for $500 from Lake County Council for Seniors likewise was reduced to $100.

ANTIOCH RESCUE Squad request for $5,000 was kept the same, as was the $5,200 asked by the Public Works Dept., for cleaning Sequoit Creek and $17,000 for a new back hoe.

The request from senior citizens to allot $3,000 for taxi service was tentatively accepted.

Also, the village share of payment for the aerial study of village energy problems was agreed on for the original amount of $5,700.

PM&L Theater group request for $2,500 for electrical materials for renovation of their building was reduced to $2,000.

The Antioch Fire Dept. request for $2,000 for new Opticom equipment was agreed upon for full amount.

The total amount of requested monies was $103,175 after the above revisions; over $13,000 more than the revenue sharing funds allocated.

The committee will present their new budget for the funds at a second public hearing 7 p.m., June 18.

Miss Antioch is busy; plans VA Hospital visit

It was a beautiful day for a parade in Antioch and many turned out.

Among the entrants in the Memorial Day Parade sponsored by the VFW and the American Legion were Miss Antioch Lillian Foreman and her first runner-up, Andrea Kleban.

INSPIRED by the speech made by William Brook at the service after the parade, Lillian and Andrea decided to heed Brook's words and "visit a veteran." They are planning to visit the Veterans Administration Hospital in North Chicago in the very near future to entertain the veterans.

"If possible, we would like to get a group of the contestants from the Miss Antioch Pageant to go together and perform," Lillian said. Anyone of the contestants interested may contact Lillian or Marlo Good, pageant chairman.

ACTIVITIES are picking up for Lillian now that she is home from school. Lillian will be appearing at the Miss Barrington Pageant performing her dramatic interpretation of "The Hairy Toe."

The pageant will be held at the Barrington High School at 8 p.m. on Saturday, June 9.

She will also make an appearance at the June meeting of the Lake Region Homemakers to be held June 13 at the Wunderbar Restaurant in Antioch.

Busily preparing for her competition, Lillian has been shopping for her wardrobe. This past week Fran Ano of Four Squires assisted Lillian in choosing an outfit for her interview competition. The outfit has been generously donated by Jack Siegmeyer of Four Squires.

"The support I have received from the town and its merchants is heartwarming," Lillian said. "Everyone has been so helpful; It's a pleasure to hold the title of Miss Antioch."

FINANCIAL NEWS

by Phil Schaub

We rely on our weekly paychecks to make ends meet. What would happen if the paychecks stopped? Income can stop for a number of reasons. Disability of breadwinners is the most devastating. This is the concern of disability income insurance.

Do you need disability income insurance? If so, how much do you need? These are decisions that only you can make. There are formulas you can use, but I feel that most people know their own situations well on an intuitive basis. Gut reactions can be more valid than complicated analysis. Ask yourself the question, "What would I do if I was disabled?" Let's take as an example, an auto accident. If you were in traction for six months and not allowed to go back to work for another five months after that, what would your family do? Do you have enough savings? Would you have another source of income? Would your employer send you money even though you weren't working? If you know the answers to these questions and you feel comfortable with the possibility, your disability planning is already done. All you have to do is review it every couple of years.

Most of us, however, cannot be complacent. If you don't have non-earned income sufficient to support your family and your employer doesn't give you disability income, you have two choices: You can do nothing and hope for the best or you can purchase disability income of your own from an insurance company.

When you buy life insurance, you are buying money — a lump sum to be paid at your death. When you buy disability income you are also buying money — monthly payments to you whenever you are medically unable to work. Being on strike or laid off doesn't count, unfortunately. When you are considering how much income you need, remember that you can only spend after tax income. You need enough disability income to cover what you need to spend to support your family. If you do have significant, non-earned income, the after-tax impact of that income will grow just because you don't have your paycheck anymore. Without your paycheck, you will be in a much lower income tax bracket.

For example, with a family of four, if you make $20,000 a year and have $2,000 of non-earned income you are approximately in the 25 per cent income tax bracket. Disability payments through your employer are partially income tax free. The same amounts in payments can be very different in purchasing power. If you do decide you need to purchase disability income of your own, that purchase has to be made with great care. We will talk about some of the details of those policies next week.

Retired people honored

Antioch Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired People will nominate officers Tuesday, June 12 at the Swedish Glee Club in Waukegan.

All members are urged to attend this very important meeting and vote, said club spokesman Frances Winiecki.

A letter from the Round Lake Senior Citizens Center invited all Chapter 387 members to visit their beautiful civic center. It is located at 9116 Rollins Rd.

Antioch Chapter President Esther Aiani was honored at the Veterans Administration Hospital of North Chicago for the hours she put in as a volunteer. Also honored were Irene Daniels, John Wenclawski, John Blanche, Babik, Helen Halka, Ann Hoffman and many others. Congratulations to all of them for their great work, Winiecki said.

AARP meetings are held the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month in Father Frawley Hall, at St. Peters Catholic Church in the lower level. The address is 557 Lake St. Meetings begin at noon.

There will be no meetings during July and August as the group will be on vacation. Tickets for the group picnic are on sale.

Faith Evangelical Lutheran School will graduate six eighth graders June 8 at 7 p.m. in the church.

Pastor Darreld Gruen will award diplomas to Kathy Graes, Jody Johnson, Laura Hedien, Tim Anderson, Joey Massie and Jim Lundgren.

APPOINTED

Trustee Edgar Simonsen and Mayor Michael Haley were appointed to serve as village representatives on the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry special industrial committee.

Teachers want to know reasons for terminations

Two Grass Lake teachers wonder why they were terminated without receiving evaluations and reasons, while school administrators counter that according to state law reasons are not required.

Suzi Kostluk and Tom Sittler are two of four first year, non-tenured teachers who were not rehired.

Kostluk taught art part-time for grades one through eight at Grass Lake. She is currently working on her masters degree and teaching at Lotus part-time where she has been employed for five years.

Sittler was a social studies teacher for grades six through eight. He has a masters degree and eight years teaching experience.

Kostluk was told the board was not renewing her contract when Richard Hogan, principal and superintendent of the school, spoke to her between classes, she said.

According to Kostluk, Hogan told her he was not happy with her teaching and did not have to tell her why, she said. She was told it wasn't because of a lack of money, Kostluk added.

"It was just shocking," Kostluk said. "I've been teaching for six years."

When she asked to attend the next board meeting, he told her he didn't want her at the meeting, she said.

Sittler, Kostluk and another teacher requested a hearing at the next meeting. Mike Cook, a Uniserv representative for region five of the Illinois Education Assn. went to the meeting with them.

"The board was under no obligation by state law to grant them a hearing," Cook said.

The board went into executive session and decided to grant each teacher a five minute hearing in front of the board in executive session that night.

"We went in separately," Kostluk said. "All I wanted from the board and superintendent was to see an evaluation on my work and where my mistakes were," she said.

None of the board members said anything after she requested a reason, she said. They listened to two other teachers, came out of the executive session, and voted to dismiss all three of us, Kostluk said.

The three teachers were asked to resign, "to make it easier on ourselves," Kostluk said. Neither she nor Sittler chose to do so, she said.

She was uncertain whether the third teacher resigned and was not aware a fourth was terminated.

"We preferred that the board grant a hearing and allow all the teachers to go in at the same time," Cook said. "There was no violation of law or contract, but it was a questionable thing professionally," he added.

"One of the comments that came out of the executive session was that their superintendent was so busy with construction that was going on in the district that he didn't have time to evaluate these people in class," Cook said.

The board president said he (Hogan) "has kept us adequately informed to evaluate the teachers," Cook said.

"That's like a teacher sending a note home saying I was too busy working on a bulletin board to give Johnny tests, but he flunked," Cook said.

"There's not a whole lot we can do. Non-tenured teachers don't have a lot of protection under the state of Illinois. We want the public to be aware of what happens," he said.

"Tom was told he was hired for his experience and put at the eighth step of the salary schedule. He was told the school could no longer afford him," Cook said.

"He never ran into these kinds of problems in teaching (before)," Cook said. "He established himself in other places."

Cook went to visit Sittler at school in February and was not aware that the school has a policy against seeing people during the day, he said.

Shortly after that he was informed that Tom's resignation was requested, Cook said.

"We could not document whether he was fired because of contact with a union representative; but it looks very suspicious," he said.

Lt. Tom Fisher leads traumatic life

by Nancy Poulter

Quiet spoken, handsome Lt. Thomas Fisher of the Antioch Police Department feels he is in the right vocation for him.

Although he puts in many, many hours at his investigative duties, he loves his work and is proud of his profession.

"I enjoy this work. I never look at the clock," he commented, "I've enjoyed my job very much from the time I started in North Chicago and now."

Then after a pause, "Some of the guys wonder how my wife puts up with me," he added and explained, "But, she is understanding. She knew what to expect when I began police work, because her brother is the one who interested me in police work."

It was after he was discharged from the Air Force in the fall of 1969 that Fisher was accepted on the North Chicago Police Force to work alongside and learn from his brother-in-law, Joseph Semasko.

Within three years, Fisher was a detective and juvenile officer in North Chicago.

While there, Fisher worked on five murder cases and "got convictions on all of them."

The worst experience he ever had, he said, was five years ago during his time in North Chicago when he was alone in a field at 2 a.m. fighting for his life with a burglary suspect.

"I envisioned my whole life gone," he remembered.

When the man he was chasing turned and lunged for Fisher's gun, the two struggled to gain control. When other officers responded to the call, Fisher was bleeding and torn from vicious bites which the suspect inflicted on him.

He still carries scars from the injuries.

In June of 1976 Fisher began his duties in Antioch as a patrolman.

When Police Chief Jack Wells retired and Charles Miller was named Antioch Chief in 1977, Fisher was made Lieutenant and put in charge of investigate work and serious juvenile cases.

Fisher's private life has not been without dramatic episodes, either.

After serving as a crew chief stationed on the Thailand border of Laos during the Vietnam War he was returned to the states in time to experience the violence of Hurricane Camille on the Gulf of Mexico.

He and his wife, Connie, and their baby daughter Carrie were living in an apartment building just across the street from the Gulf when they were awakened in the middle of the night by civil defense workers evacuating all residents in the path of the gigantic storm.

Fisher said they took off in their car for Jackson, Miss., and safety.

When they returned there was nothing left of the brick building except a pile of rubble. They lost everything they owned except the car and the clothes on their backs. They did find part of an outdoor grill which Connie had hidden as a birthday gift for Tom, he said.

Now the family lives far away from hurricanes in Antioch where they are involved in iceless hockey and little league along with Carrie who is now 10, and her three younger brothers, Gregory, 8, Joseph, 7 and Jeffrey 4.

ALL THAT WAS LEFT — When Antioch Police Lt. Thomas Fisher was in air force stationed in Biloxi, Miss., his apartment was hit by Hurricane Camille. All that remained of three unit apartment was strewn rubble. Of all his belongings, Fisher recovered only part of his outdoor grille.

Annual bike rodeo June 13

The Third Annual Bike Safety Rodeo sponsored by the State Bank of Antioch will be held Wednesday, June 13th, from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. (Rain date will be June 20th).

The State Bank, assisted by the Village of Antioch and the office of Alan J. Dixon, Illinois Secretary of State, will conduct the Bike Safety Rodeo in the Bank parking lot. Bike riders, age six thru 14, will be competing for a Grand Prize 10-speed bike and a total of 18 trophies; nine trophies for the girls, nine for the boys.

Bike riders can register now at the State Bank or the Village Hall on Main St. On the day of the safety rodeo, riders can register from 1 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the State Bank parking lot.

The first 300 participants to register will receive a complimentary set of reflectors for their bikes.

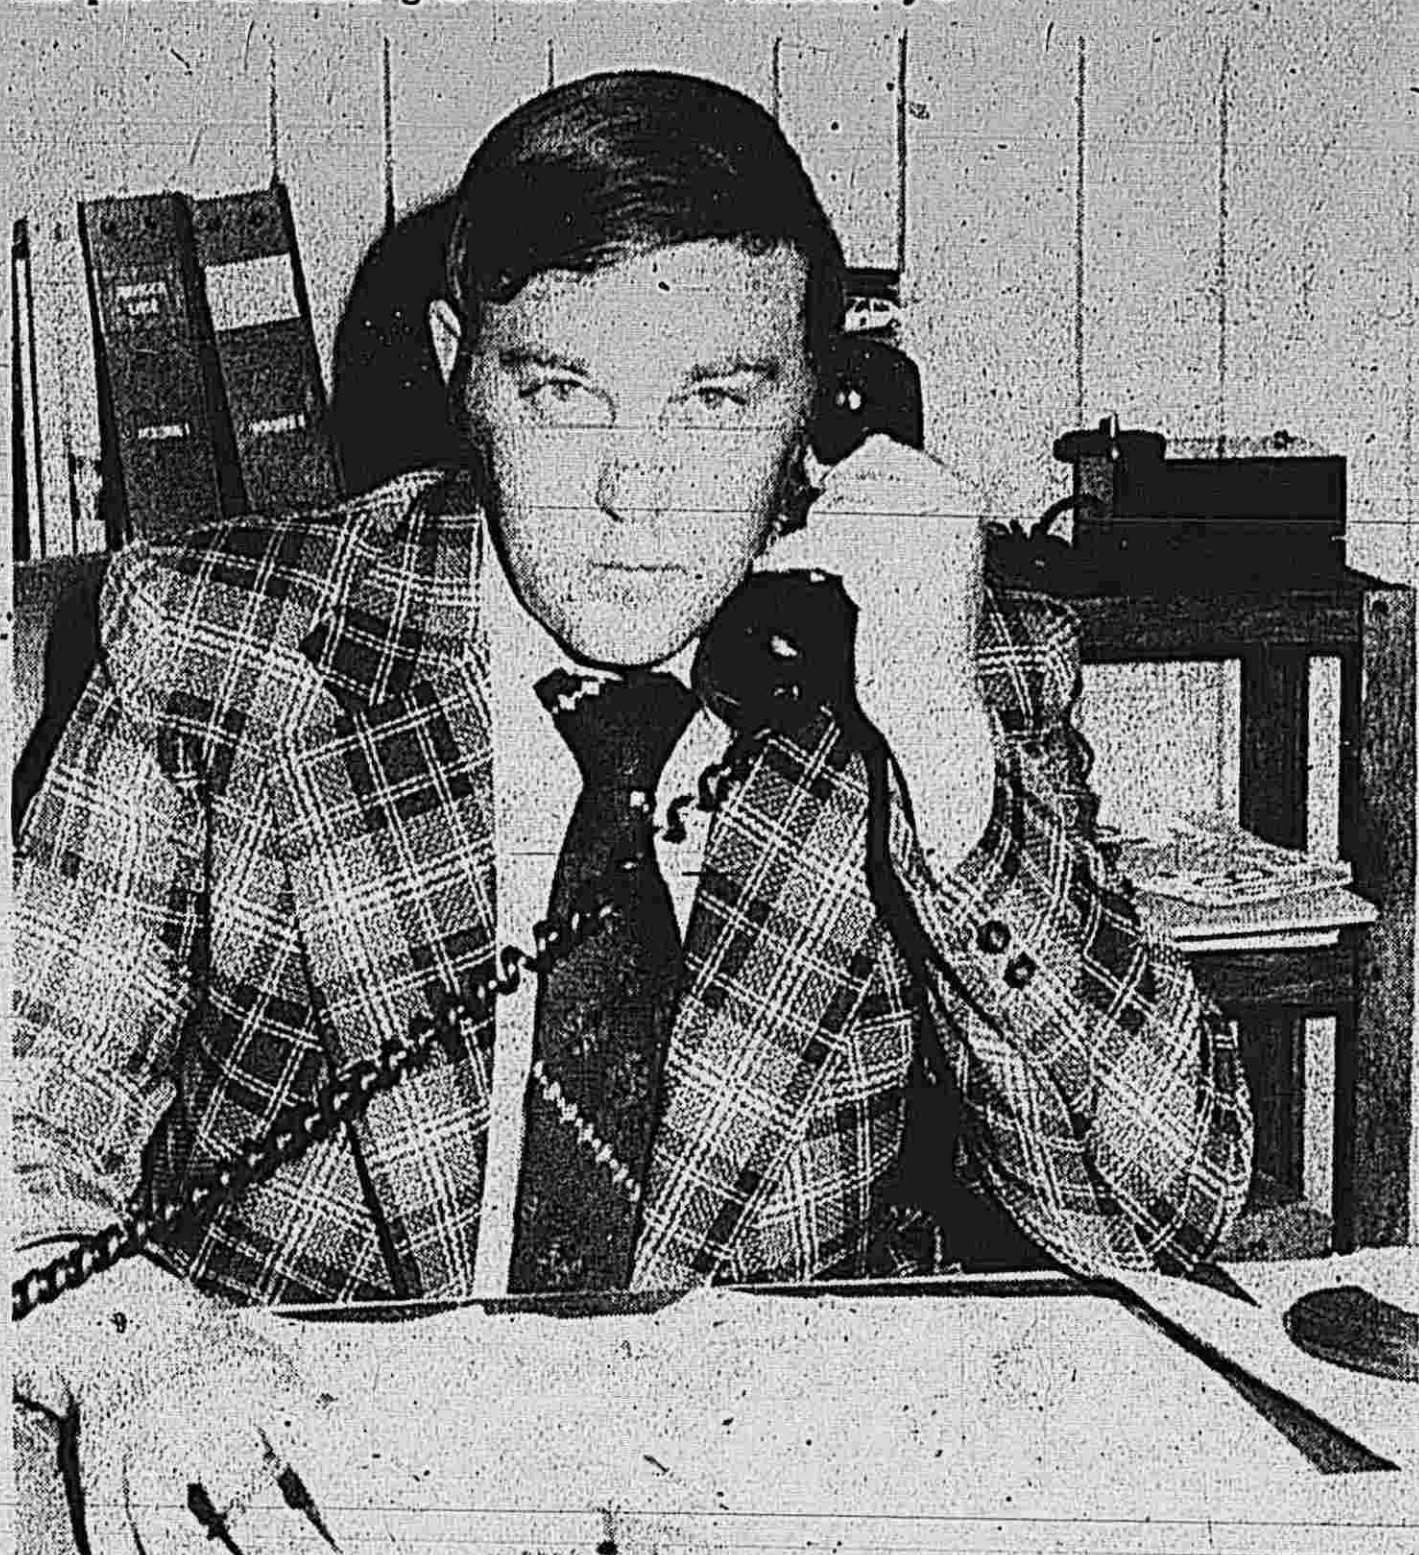

During the safety rodeo competition, Antioch Police Department personnel will conduct bike safety checks and register bike serial numbers for theft prevention.

The safety Rodeo involves a skill test layout to determine the rider's ability to control a bike, his or her knowledge of city and state laws for bike riders, and awareness of proper maintenance of cycling equipment.

The aim of the Safety rodeo, according to Pres Reckers, vice president of the State Bank, is to reach the greatest number of youngsters and their parents by giving them an opportunity to demonstrate their ability to ride safely and to gain confidence at the handlebars of the often-sophisticated equipment they are using.

Mr. Reckers and Glenda Tomaschik, Parks and Recreation Coordinator for the Village, are urging parents to encourage their children to participate in the Bike Safety Rodeo, which, hopefully, will save lives and reduce serious injuries by stressing individual responsibility when operating a bike day or night.

Bishofbergers happy for 60 years

by NANCY FOULER

The happy days together continue for 82 year old Sophia and 86 year old Anton (Tony) Bishofberger, of Antioch as they celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary this week.

Blessed with good health, the attractive personable couple are able to do all their own yard and housework and find time to joke and laugh with each other, too.

Both agree with Sophia's statement,

"These past 60 years were filled with all happy days — that's the best part of a long marriage."

How did she keep Tony happy and their marriage intact?

"Well," she said with a wink, "I didn't give him his way all the time."

But, when Tony was asked his secret for a happy marriage, Sophia answered for him,

"He gave me my own way."

They both agreed that consideration for one another was the true key to compatibility.

Sophia and Tony were married at St. Heleh's Catholic Church in Chicago on June 7, 1919.

Because Tony had been home from the Army for only a week, they had no plans for a honeymoon and instead took a day to visit Fox Lake and swim.

Until they moved to Antioch 35 years ago, they lived in Fremont Michigan where he worked as a farmer and a sheet metal worker. Sophia was a seamstress in both Antioch and Michigan.

They have one daughter, Lorraine, who is the wife of Stanley Toton, owner of Stanley's mens' clothing store in Orchard Shopping Center.

The Toton's are hosting a small family gathering June 10 at their home celebrating Bishofberger's anniversary.

The Bishofbergers have two grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Your Guide to Fine Dining and Excellent Entertainment

THE Entertainer

Enjoy 'Picnic' at PM&L Theater

Saturday night, June 9, the PM&L curtain will rise for the opening performance of "Picnic," William Inge's Pulitzer Prize-winning play.

Four subsequent presentations are set for Fridays and Saturdays, June 15, 16, 22 and 23. All five of these performances will be at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main St. in Antioch, where curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Directed by Tom Hausman, "Picnic" portrays American small-town life in the 1950's. Inge originally called the play "Front Porch," but revised it, and changed the title to "Picnic," when the show went to Broadway and Hollywood in the days when "fiappy endings" were the rule. The author continued to prefer the original ending, and restored it in the so-called "Summer Brave revision," first published in the 1960's and now presented by PM&L.

Centering on a late summer picnic, the story challenges conventional manners and morals. The PM&L cast features Pam Guardi of Waukegan as Madge Owens, the small-town beauty; Mike Shapiro, Libertyville, Beano; Anne Marie Cina, McHenry, Flo Owens; Bill Serzhon, Antioch, Hal Carter; Phil Jaeger, Zion, Alan Seymour; Dee Baum, Antioch, Rosemary Sydney; Lillian Allen, Trevor, Helen Potts; Rae Johansson, Fox Lake, Christine Schoenwalder; and Don Beveroth, Paddock Lake, as Howard Bevans.

If you have not already made your reservations to see "Picnic," it would be a good idea to act fast. The telephone number to call for reservations is 395-3055.

NEEDS CONVINCING — Millie, played by Ruth Heilgeist, wants to leave small town while drifter, Hal, played by Bill Serzhon tells her it is the best kind of place to be in. DONUT DAY — Irene Williams, Louise Santino and Jean Rockow are volunteers from Antioch Women's Club for the Salvation Army's Donut Day.

Tag day was a success

June 1 was Salvation Army Tag Day.

Again this year the Antioch Women's Club and Antioch American Association of Retired Persons supplied volunteers to collect all day.

The chairperson for this year was Mabel Lou Weber from the Woman's Club. Organizing the AARP volunteers was Emily Novotny.

"It was once again a successful Tag Day in Antioch with the help of the volunteers and the citizens and businesses of Antioch, said a spokesman.

Memory Lane

Beautiful weekends and lovely weather do not a perfect weekend make — at least not for Walt Soderman, principal of Oakland Grade School.

Genial Walt was spending some well earned leisure time at his vacation hide-away in northern Wisconsin over Memorial Day when he fell and cracked some ribs. Last I heard, poor Walt was back at school duties after a painful three days at home.

Seems they don't tape a person up anymore for broken ribs so it makes any movement a very touchy thing.

I hate to be the bearer of such bad tidings, but, I have another report of springtime injuries. This time in the land of sunshine itself, Santa Cruz, California.

Remember Shari Prange (now Mrs. John Fuller) who graduated from Antioch High School in 1972?

Well, she and her husband were seriously injured in a single motorcycle accident June 27 near Santa Cruz. According to Marian Prange, John received a brain concussion and a fractured shoulder. I'm happy to say, though, that he has been released from the hospital and is doing well.

Shari suffered a fractured wrist and lacerations and after treatment at a local California hospital has also been released and is back home in Santa Clara recuperating.

Say, did you note the interesting item in the "Ten Years Ago" column in this issue of the paper?

I thought it was a cute little note mentioning that Mike Haley had just returned from the service "looking fit as a fiddle."

A decade later, and Mike still looks fit as a fiddle even after two years in the demanding job of mayor and quite a few years as trustee for the Village.

Bet being married to pretty Sue is a big reason he keeps on such an even keel.

Don't forget to make your reservations to attend the opening performance of PM&L's "Picnic" June 15.

I'll see you there in all my brand new summer finery.

Township residents pay higher rec fee

Antioch Parks and Recreation wants to notify all residents of Antioch Township of their fees for programs.

Due to township funding for parks and recreation it has made it possible to eliminate extra fees in all programs.

"Our program book did not explain this matter clearly and many people still think they have to pay the out-of-town fees," a spokesman said.

Anyone outside Antioch Township is charged one-half of the program fee extra. As of May 30, pool memberships are $38 to the village township residents and $41 for all people outside the township.

"Many of the programs are filling up so we suggest registering for the program you desire soon. We have a maximum participant in many of the programs so we suggest sending in the application or coming to our office at 874 Main St. and sign up. No one will be registered unless they pay," the spokesman said.

Vacation school will begin

Plans are nearing completion for this summer's vacation church school at the Antioch United Methodist Church.

Children, ages three through the eighth grade, will meet during the week of June 17-24 from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. for learning, fellowship and singing. A special event is being planned for Saturday, June 23. Refreshments will be served daily.

This summer the vacation church school theme centers around the idea of "Shalom," a Hebrew word, used for "Hello and Good-bye" but with a great deal more meaning.

Students enjoy drama, fun of Shakespearian Festival

by NANCY POULER
Approximately 70 of Antioch and Lake Villa brightest young people have had the unique experience of enjoying inspired performances of Shakespeare over the past seven years through the efforts of former teacher Paul Epner and his wife Cheryl.

The personally selected groups of honor students traveled to Stratford, Ontario to attend at least two performances at the Festival Theatre renowned for its Shakespearian and classical presentations.

The cultural trip was the brain child of Epner when he taught science at Antioch Upper Grade School.

Hoping to inspire interest and appreciation of Shakespeare in his seventh graders, Epner invited four youngsters who were recommended by their English teachers for their scholastic record and enthusiasm, to spend a weekend camping and attending the theatre in Stratford with he and his wife.

"We started that first year with four kids and one weekend," he said, "But in spite of losing our way and reaching the campground at 4:30 in the morning, we still managed to see two plays on Saturday and on the way home Sunday, we stopped at Greenfield Village."

The visit to Greenfield Village was such a success, Epner incorporated it in all subsequent trips which were lengthened to four days and included as many as 30 youngsters one year.

During the 1978 Stratford jaunt 18 girls and 12 high school boys from Antioch High School were bussed along with nine chaperones.

This year, however, the group was limited to eight high school girls and four chaperones traveling in a motor home. At the campground, the youngsters set up their tents and all helped with the cooking and clean up duties.

Always in May, when Stratford offers a special ticket rate for students, the excursion costs only actual expenses. The Epners and other chaperones pay their own way, too. The cost this year for everything including gasoline, food, tickets was $75 per person.

Only honor students are asked to go along, as Epner feels they would gain the most from the three phase excursion which now also includes a trip to Toronto's Ontario Science Center.

"I consider this trip a practical experience in science and social studies as well as in literature," he explained.

"And, besides it is a lot of fun for all."

This year's group was the first to include anyone outside of Antioch schools. A cousin of Epners from Northbrook and a friend's daughter from Park Forest were included.

Antioch girls who saw "Richard The II" and "Love's Labour Lost" on this year's trip were: Janet Haisman, Nancy Harland, Lorna Whitton, Janet Nordstrom, Helene Noethling and Sherry Haisman.
